Logo Mono Color

The Logo Mono Color section of a brand book outlines guidelines for the use and presentation of the brand's logo in a single color format. This section is particularly important when the logo needs to be reproduced in situations where color is limited, such as in black and white publications or in situations where printing in multiple colors is not feasible.

The brand book provides instructions on how to use the logo in a mono color format and specifies the color to be used.

Background Color Usage

The Background Color Usage section of a brand book outlines guidelines for the use and presentation of background colors in relation to the brand's visual identity.

This section is particularly important as it ensures that the background colors used in various media and contexts are consistent with the brand's values and personality.

Mobile App Logo

The Mobile App Logo section of a brand book outlines guidelines for the use and presentation of the brand's logo in the context of a mobile application. This section is particularly important to ensure that the logo is represented accurately and consistently on mobile devices, which have smaller screens and different display characteristics compared to other media.

01

Safe Zone

The Safe Zone section of a brand book outlines guidelines for the minimum distance that must be maintained between the brand's logo or other design elements and other visual elements, such as text, images, or other graphics.
